Alumni Meet Report 2021

College alumni networks are a great way to meet people who are already working in your area of interest, and even better, you already have one big thing in common; you attended the same college. Whether through network events, your college's career services, or your own social media searching, you can meet, get to know and find help from alumni in every aspect of your career.

The current academic year alumni were organized on 15 September 2020. The programme was presided by Dr.(Sr).Niranjana, HOD of the department and followed by the participants of alumni who shared the following thoughts.

The following are focal areas for which the members of alumni meet regularly and have gained knowledge and skills for carrier development. More over, helps the alumni members to sustain their relationships with alumni over the course of our college career and beyond.

Areas of Discussion

The following points were shared through the discussion during the meeting.

Curriculum can be updated with new trends and in Teaching-Learning learners can be oriented towards writing government exams and applying government jobs. During Block placement the learners can be motivated take good organisations so that they can get jobs immediately after their exam.

Regular touch with the department

The alumni have shared the ways and means to strengthen the regular contact of the alumni with the department of social work. They believed that this regular touch would enhance their carrier development in the current scenario.

Finally, the day was concluded with the words from the organizer that these days, simply getting a college degree isn't enough to land you a great job after graduation. We often have to have the right experience and know the right people to get a job in those first few months after college ends. Alumni can help you with all of these things and can even act as mentors and advisors throughout your post-college career. All we have to do is be willing to reach out and ask for their help.
